Redagrícola is Latin America's leading specialized media outlet for High-Tech agriculture. We deliver highly specialized technical information that is key to decision-making in the agricultural industry.

In 2021 we launched the 1st Biostimulants Latam & Redagrícola Biocontrol Congress. Since then, successful editions have been held in Lima (Peru), Cancún (Mexico), Guadalajara (Mexico), Santiago (Chile) and Ica (Peru), bringing together more than 7,000 professionals from five continents.

The latest edition, held in Ica in September 2026, drew 1,200 attendees and marked a milestone in the congress's internationalization, with delegations from Europe, India and other Asian countries.

In 2027 the congress comes to Colombia for the first time, at the Cartagena de Indias Convention Center on September 28 and 29, connecting the bio-inputs industry with one of the region's fastest-growing agricultural markets.

Biologicals Latam has become the ideal platform to showcase knowledge and practices in the global biostimulants and biocontrol industry, sharing up-to-date, innovative technical and commercial information through its website and a specialized magazine.
